Snag Is Seen In Pool Plans

A skirmish developed in the City Council meeting Tuesday night over the possibility of borrowing money from the Water Department to help pay for the new swimming pool.

At one point, Councilman Harold Roberts, chairman of the Water Commission, said he would "resign immediately" if the Council ever decided to scuttle the depreciation and capital improvement funds established approximately one year ago.

Cost of the new pool, including sewers and the removal of the Youth Hut, will approximate $92,500. The low bid for the pool was submitted by C & H Contractors.

THE BID for the pool and the bath house alone, deducting items which the architect, Robert Ainsworth, suggested, amounts to approximately $86,710. If started in the immediate future, it should be completed by Aug. 1 and the city would have to pay for it by Sept. 1.

About half the cost of the pool will be on hand from sales tax funds by Sept. 1. The remaining half, however, would not be available from tax funds until April, 1958.

This means that the city, if it intends to build the pool this year, must borrow money from one or more other budget items to pay for the pool. The money presumably would be repaid when the sales tax funds come in.

The total amount in city funds as of March 31 amounted to $399,741. There is approximately $128,000 in three Water Department funds.

IT WAS suggested by Councilman Lorne Pratt that money allocated from the general water fund — which totals nearly $79,000—for the depreciation and capital improvements accounts be diverted to pay for the swimming pool.

This would take approximately $50,000, leaving only $29,000 to operate the department. Mr. Pratt said that all tax funds should then be earmarked to pay back the Water Department.

There were no suggestions that money currently in the depreciation and capital improvement accounts be withdrawn, but only that funds earmarked for those accounts be temporarily diverted.

Mr. Roberts objected on grounds that future councils would be under no obligation to repay the Water Department and that about $21,000 must be spent to pay for improvement to the Mira Monte reservoir.

MONEY withdrawn from the water fund to help pay for the pool, he said, would result in a sizeable overdraft.

When Mr. Roberts mentioned his possible resignation, Mayor Robert H. James commented that no councilman had any intention of voting to abandon the capital improvement and depreciation program, which was established following an increase in local water rates.

The Council, after a two-hour discussion, voted to meet again at 7:30 p.m. today, when members are expected to decide where the money will come from to pay for the pool.

There are several other funds, such as the park and alcoholic beverage accounts, from which money could be diverted.

Mr. Pratt said there would be no danger that future councils would not reimburse the funds since the councilmanic election will not occur until after next April, at which time all the necessary sales tax money will be in the city treasury.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Council:

1. Set two public hearings on the Cypress Court improvement program. One, scheduled May 14, will be on naming the streets, and the other, on May 28, will be on spreading the assessment.

2. Set a three-hour parking limit between the hours of 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. on the N. Baaldwin parking lot, with the exception of Sundays and holidays.

3. Appointed William Hawkins and James McCoy as new members of the recently created Parks and Recreation Committee. Their terms will be for three years.

The problems of sewering the city and rubbish disposal were held over for the next meeting.

ALFRED JAMES DEWEY, one of the area's outstanding artists and certainly one of the oldest active painters, works on a portrait of John Fitzgerald, Sierra Madre attorney who has practiced law here for several decades. Mr. Dewey is 83; Mr. Fitzgerald, 82.

Clean-Up Campaign Planned

Plans for a beautification and property improvement program were outlined yesterday at a luncheon meeting of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce in the Woman's Clubhouse.

The program, under the chairmanship of Don Jackson, will be modeled after paint - up, clean - up, fix - up campaigns that are held annually in many U.S. cities and towns.

Although the program will be city-wide and should include all Sierra Madreans, Mr. Jackson emphasized that businessmen must "carry the ball."

As a start, he proposed that every merchant sign a statement pledging to thoroughly clean the sidewalk in front of his store on a specified date, which will be set later.

Strong soap, hot water, a gallon of bleach, a scrub brush and a lot of muscle are the only ingredients necessary, Mr. Jackson said.

The Chamber will call on everybody to paint where needed, clear the trash out of the garage, inspect the electric wiring and clean up the yard.

Some of the benefits which will result from the campaign, he said, will be a higher valuation of property, elimination of fire hazards and a generally more attractive town which should induce more people to live in Sierra Madre and to shop here.

The Chamber also discussed a planned membership drive which will start in May

Minor Teams Start Season On Tuesday

The first game of the newly-formed Sierra Madre Minor League will be played Tuesday at the City Ball Park, 621 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., from 5 p.m. until dusk.

Over 150 boys between the ages of 9 and 12 had signed up Saturday for the new youngster league, organizing six teams for intra-city play.

Adult volunteers for coaching and manager jobs are urgently needed, states Hal Greene, city recreation director.

Leak Suspected In Police Dept.

Sunday's sudden, torrential rain turned up in some interesting places — like the Police Department where the roof leaked directly over the Chief's desk. Operation Move Desk was put into effect and buckets were installed for the drip.

The roof has been repaired before, apparently will be again. Meanwhile, on file, is the damp memo from Sgt. Hi Embree reading, "The Roof Still Leaks Over P. D. Desk."

Saturday Shooting Jails John Cuellar

John Cuellar Jr., 24, of 665 Woodland Dr., was sentenced to a year in County Jail Tuesday in Monrovia Municipal Court on charges stemming from a 17-shot fusillade into a parked car at pre-dawn Saturday.

Monrovia police said Cuellar was driving his own car with his cousin, Donald Arguelo, and Albert Villa as passengers. Both are of Monrovia.

Early Saturday, the trio approached the car of Gene Roy, 535 W. Olive, Monrovia. Police said Arguelo had been going out with Roy's estranged wife.

ROY TOLD police that the Cuellar car tried to run him off the road. He drove to his home, he said, parked and left the car. Within a short time the pursuing trio drove by and Cuellar pumped 17 bullets from a .22 automatic into the car.

Monrovia police put out a call for Cuellar and his companions on an attempted murder charge.

At 5:45 Saturday, Sierra Madre police identified the wanted car in front of Cuellar's Woodland Dr. address. Officer F. R. Hazlett notified Monrovia police and an attempt was made to surround the house. However, Cuellar had fled through a rear door. Police impounded his car.

AFTER CUELLAR'S Sunday night surrender, charges were reduced to malicious destruction of property. According to Monrovia Police Lt. Stanley Alexander, Cuellar knew that Roy was not in the car when he fired into it.

When Cuellar was taken in custody, it was discovered that a warrant had been issued against him by the District Attorney's office, charging him with failure to provide for his separated wife. He received a sentence of six months in the County Jail on the property destruction charges, and a year in County Jail on "failure to provide" charges. Running concurrently, they add up to a year.

Arguelo and Villa also received six-month sentences in the County Jail.

PROBABLY THE MOST attractive Easter window display in Sierra Madre was at Perrys' Stationery Store which annually arranges religious statuettes to depict the true meaning of Easter. The display was set up by Mrs. Lillian Haverick, and the statuettes are the work of Tom Flynn, 102 N. Mountain Trail.

Sale of Royal Drug Set

The Royal Drug Store will change ownership, probably about the middle of May, Sam Perloff, the present owner, announced yesterday.

The drug store is being purchased by a corporation of three, which is composed of George Wellington, his wife, Ruth, and a son, Harold W. Wellington, who will run the store. Mr. Wellington and his son are both pharmacists.

Mr. Perloff said the only detail holding up the sale is the transfer of the liquor license. The City Council, on the recommendation of the chief of police, approved the transfer at its meeting Tuesday. Final approval, however rests with the State Board of Equalization.

George Wellington now owns the Junction Drug Store on Sunset Blvd. in Los Angeles. Mr. Wellington also is in partnership with his brother, Joseph, in the operation of three drug stores in Culver City.

Mr. Perloff founded Royal Drugs in its old location on Kersting Ct. in February, 1939. He moved to his present location in Oct., 1955.

Old Ranch Is New Cypress Court Name

The Planning Commission recommended new names for old Cypress Court Thursday night and passed them on for City Council acceptance at an open meeting.

With a good-sized representation of property owners on hand with opinions, the Commission chose Old Ranch Road for the main street, which is a horseshoe curving east and then back west off of Churchill Road.

Reason for the name is that the first house in Sierra Madre, on Richardson's ranch, is situated there, owned by Mrs. Lillian Smith.

The main north - south street was named Pleasant Hill Lane and a small street paralleling it was called Madre Lane.

Members laughed at but did not act upon a suggestion written in from Altadenan G. Anderson, that "everyone has the desire to live on Easy Street."

Hold the Clock, Here We Go: Daylight Time

It's going to be earlier later around here starting Sunday morning. Or, wait a minute, will it be later earlier?

While you argue it out around the house, the only sure thing is that Daylight Saving Time begins Sunday at midnight and clocks should be advanced one hour. You get that hour back in September when you may need it.

DST, which means different things to different persons (your children don't wake up as early, but neither do they go to bed as early) means nothing at all to Metropolitan Coach Lines which serves Sierra Madre.

According to company officials, Metro time tables will make the shift automatically to the new time with the same number and frequency of trips as usual.

Asbury Rapid Transit service out of Pasadena will also make the time change with no effect on schedules.

Stewart Sculpture Exhibit to Open At Library May 5

Works of Albert Stewart, sculptor, will go on exhibition May 5 at the Library Gaallery in Sierra Madre's first sculpture show.

Mr. Stewart, who teaches at Pomona Associated Colleges, is termed an architectural sculptor. Many of his works are incorporated in buildings throughout the Southwest region.

The Exhibits Committee of Friends of the Library sponsors the show, which will last through the month.

Dr. G. W. Griffin Joins Humble Oil At Texas Plant

Dr. Gary W. Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail W. Griffin of 667 W. Grand View, has joined the Research and Development Division of Humble Oil and Refining Co. at Baytown, Tex., where he is engaged in chemical research.

A John Muir and Pomona College graduate, Dr. Griffin recently received his Ph.D. in organic chemistry from the University of Illinois. His wife and two sons have joined him in the Texas city where Humble plans one of the world's largest benzene plants.

Board Cites Need For Six New Units

Architect's plans for the construction of six new classrooms, double kindergarten rooms and a combination auditorium-cafeteria will be presented to the Board of Education here at its next meeting in May.

Plans are being prepared by Howard Morgridge, school architect, and are expected to provide for our growing elementary school population for from six to eight years. (See editorial on Page 2).

School Superintendent Charles A. Skutt pointed out that the primary school age population is growing at the rate of approximately 40 new students per year with an anticipated maximum growth of 400 in 10 years. This means that in 1967, Sierra Madre will have a school population of about 1,200, by conservative estimates. There are now 800 students in our two schools here.

THE SIX new classrooms, which the School Board considers an absolute necessity, and the proposed double kindergarten will actually provide eight more classrooms, since the present rooms used for the kindergarten and cafeteria would be released for class purposes.

All the classrooms will be built at Sierra Mesa and probably will be financed through a bond issue, if the voters approve.

Dr. Milton Valois, Board president, said the bond issue probably would total $250,000 to $260,000.

He added that in spite of the current high cost of labor and materials, the competitive situation makes the construction of new schools at the present time reasonably economical.

The Board, at its meeting Monday, also discussed the possibility of maintaining all six grades at Sierra Mesa when the new classrooms are built instead of only the first three. Sierra Mesa also would have its own principal.

Before the question of new schools facilities is settled, Board members said the community should be made fully aware of the problem and that perhaps a representative citizens group should be formed to study it.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Board authorized improvements for Sierra Madre School. Members agreed to advertise for bids for roofing the west section of the school, with the work to be done during summer vacation.

Specifications were ordered for modernizations of the electrical system, including the installation of fluorescent lights, in the entire building.

Although it will cost approximately $600 more to put in fluorescent lights than to rewire the building, a representative of Hilburg and Turpin, electrical and engineering contractor, said they are more economical and provide better illumination.

If incandescent lights are used, the building would have to be rewired to handle the increased load. In addition, fluorescent lights would provide about twice as much candle power without boosting the load on the electrical circuits.

THE COST of installing fluorescent lights was estimated at $9,218. Improvement work will be financed by revenue from tax increases voted by Sierra Madreans and is part of a long-range capital improvement program.

Improvements to the north athletic field at Sierra Madre School also were discussed. The Board tentatively plans to grade the field, terrace the banks, plant shrubbery and possibly install a sprinkling system.

Adjoining property owners previously protested the playground project. They will be asked to attend the next Board meeting May 27.

Engineers have recommended that the entire corner be graded and landscaped to eliminate a drainage problem.

THE BOARD also discussed once again the question of religion in the schools.

Dr. Skutt said that a syllabus entitled "Moral and Spiritual Values," released from the office of the county superintendent of schools and prepared by school administrators throughout the United States, has met with general approval of Sierra Madre teachers.

It was suggested by Dr. Valois that perhaps the Board should adopt the syllabus as a guide. Board member Newell Barrett, however, objected on grounds that such action would be hasty.

He added that the Board has labored long and hard to reach agreement on the statement of policy released at the meeting in March and that further action at this time may jeopardize Board harmony.

He said, in addition, that probably many residents of Sierra Madre may object to parts of the "Moral and Spiritual Values" paper.

The Board plans to answer all letters it received on the subject in a form message which will restate its resolution.

New Bethany Church Opens On May 19

First meeting in the new Bethany Church, 93 N. Baldwin, is scheduled for Sunday, May 19, according to its pastor, Dr. Robert N. Schaper.

The work on the building itself is expected to be concluded this week, Dr. Schaper said, but tenancy will depend on the delivery of chairs.

The new church will seat 610 persons. The balcony which will eventually accommodate over 150, will not be completed immediately, awaiting available funds.

Local Tennis Club to Film Open Match on May 26

The Sierra Madre Tennis Club plans to shoot more than 350 feet of action film in color at its Open Tournament May 26 at the city tennis courts, LeRoy Toms, club president, announced yesterday.

The resulting film, unedited and uncensored, will have its first showing at the club's general meeting in June.

"This club first," Mr. Toms said, "should prove diverting as well as instructive in its 30-minute revelation of uninhibited action in fact motion."

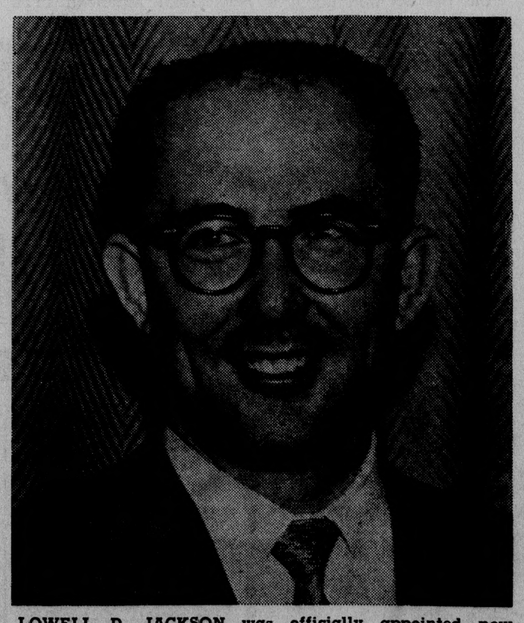
He emphasized that, for the first time, the tournament will be open to non-club members. May 17 is the deadline for registering for the open tournament, with fees of 75 cents for club members and $1.50 for non-members.

* * *

THE CLUB Tournament, for members only, to establish a club champion, will be played off by the handicap system and by singles only. First, second, and third rounds will be played off on May 12, June 2, and before June 16, respectively — final playoff on June 16. Matches not played by these dates will be considered defaulted.

The Sierra Madre Tennis Club is now a member of the Foothill Tennis League of the Foothill Cities. While the local club will not enter as a club, any individual members of the Sierra Madre Tennis Club may enter for singles, doubles, or mixed doubles in the annual "B" and "C" Tournament to be played May 11, 12, 18, and 19 at the Arcadia County Park Tennis Courts.

Closing date for entries is May 5. To provide added incentive to members of the local club to enter this Foothill contest, the Sierra Madre Club will pay half the $2 entry fee for singles, or half the $3.50 fee for doubles. The required entry forms may be obtained for this event, and all other desired information concerning all three tournaments, from Peter Cowles, 109 E. Grand View, ELgin 5-2754.



LOWELL D. JACKSON was officially appointed new superintendent of schools here at the meeting of the Sierra Madre Board of Education Monday night. He will succeed Charles A. Skutt, who has resigned. The story of Mr. Jackson's appointment was in last week's Sierra Madre News.

Classrooms Needed Now

Ten years from now there will be approximately 12,000 residents in Sierra Madre and about 1,200 children of primary school age—400 more than go to school here now.

Obviously, the present school system will not acommodate 400 more youngsters unless we lower our educational standards by crowding classrooms and starting a split shift system. Few people here would tolerate that.

The alternative is more classrooms. How many more will be up to you, the taxpayer, because you are the one who will have to foot the bill.

The Board of Education has been studying the problem for several weeks now and is tentatively considering floating a bond issue, a big one, to build a bank of six classrooms plus a double kindergarten unit and a combination cafeteria-auditorium at Sierra Mesa.

Howard Morgridge, the school architect, will have plans ready for the next Board meeting in May.

This means that, in effect, Sierra Madre will be getting eight new classrooms, since the present rooms used for the kindergarten and cafeteria would be released for class purposes.

At a growth rate of 40 new students a year, eight classrooms will accommodate 320 pupils.

Assuming a bond issue passes to build the addition to Sierra Mesa, we will be in fine shape for six to eight years. Then, presumably, another bond election will have to be held to get funds to construct at least two more classrooms.

By that time, the cost of labor and materials may well be higher than at today's inflated prices.

So, barring legal curbs on the size of a bond issue, it probably would be cheaper to build eight new classrooms now than to wait six or eight years before building the additions that will handle our anticipated growth.

This, it seems to me, is a problem that must be faced by Sierra Madreans now. We know we are going to need more classroom space. The question is how far are the taxpayers willing to go immediately?

Regardless of what happens, though, you can be sure of one thing: The Board of Education is certain to be criticized, either for shortsightedness or for peering too far into the future.—H.W.E.

Burglars and Envelopes

Two intriguing pieces of mail this week missed the office wastebasket.

One proclaimed May 5 to May 11 as Burglary Prevention Week. A fine idea, if only we could convince the burglars.

The other, apparently issued by a public relations firm with a financial interest in cellophane, insisted that industry could save more than $282 million a year by sending only 20 per cent more of its mail in window envelopes.

Why, then, not send all mail via the window? Business and industry, judging by the saving on only 20 per cent, could sock away $1,128,000,000, a figure which when converted into taxes would go a long way toward reducing the national debt.

This alleged saving results, according to the press release, because secretaries don't have to address the envelopes, a rather fatuous bit of reasoning, it would appear.

If plain envelopes are used, for example, the message or bill inside doesn't necessarily have to be addressed. So where's the saving?

Also, secretaries generally are paid for the 9 to 5 trek, even if they spend all eight hours primping or, more popularly, sitting on their bosses' laps.

Far better that they should be addressing envelopes. —H.W.E.

Newlyweds Average 11 Kisses Per Stoplight

Fred Edmunds

The wounds will heal soon.

And, we have until the 15th of April, 1958, to both recuperate and gird ourselves for the annual accounting of family finances to the national government. But, in the meantime, the complex operations of our government shouldn't have too much trouble struggling along. There'll still be those monthly "painless" payments via withholding for the "pay as you go" income tax collection system.

In this manner, our elected spenders are assured of a steady income—seasonal incomes are almost a thing of the past.

It is no secret that it requires a tremendous sum of money to operate such a government as ours. So, I don't think it's a bad idea every once in awhile to remind the citizenry that every single red cent spent by our government comes out of the earnings of the general public. Government doesn't create money. That's up to us. It merely handles the job of spending for us.

But, sit back and relax. Form 1020 is filed away for another year.

* * *

SPEAKING of government and spending, has anyone ever heard about the cost of our share (the majority one, of course) of the operation of the United Nations. I have tried on several occasions to get some glimmer of fact on this, but apparently no one single federal agency or office either knows or cares to reveal any financial statistical information on the UN.

I have the frightening suspicion that if we knew just how much we were pouring into this seemingly bottomless pit of international activity it would come as somewhat of a shock.

Perhaps, though, the UN, headquarters in that stunning structure on East River in New York City, is being written off as a part of the cost of keeping the peace that isn't being kept.

But the UN building is a beautiful thing. Perhaps even more important, it proves that history does repeat itself. I recall one other similar structure built many, many years ago. Only today, the building has been dubbed the "Tower of Babble."

TIP TO THE commuter: Make certain to have a newspaper or magazine with you while driving to work. Reading can ease the pain of long freeway tieups. But don't read or shave while moving—police departments frown on this. Or, if you don't read, take your wife to work with you. One newly wed couple I know (both work) report they can average eleven kisses per stop light.

A Moving Picture

Lee Shippey asks

What Do You Think?

The population of Los Angeles County increased more than 50,000 in the first three months of this year. That rate of increase, which seems about normal, would mean 200,000 MORE people here this year, 2,000,000 more in 10 years, or 10,000,000 in 50 years.

Can you imagine this county with 10,000,000 MORE people? Where will we house them all? How will we feed and water them? And will we even have enough air for them to breathe?

* * *

FOR A LONG time the Malthusian theory has been merely academic. The theory of Dr. Malthus was that the growth of populations would make the world run out of food and starvation would bring back the law of the jungle, dog eat dog and possibly man eat man.

The fact that right now our country has great surplus stocks of food is cited as proof that you can never starve any people as smart as we are. But every year some thousands of acres of agricultural land in this county become subdivisions and the food costs more, every year there is more and even in this prosperous land there are a lot of people who don't have enough of the right kinds of food.

* * *

OF COURSE, though, our prosperity is one of the causes of that. Several recent surveys hve shown that the average European teenager is physically fitter than the average American teenager — because ours ride rather than walk, live more prampered lives and continually eat and drink things And some of ours are given Miltown when what they European kids cannot afford. need is a good, thorough spanking like Grandpa used to give in the woodshed. Of couse, there aren't any woodsheds now, and that is too bad. Something sturdy vanished from American life along with them.

Hiestand Bill Implements Air Safety Legislation

By Edgar W. Hiestand, Rep. 21st District

America's aerial traffic jam has caused no end of concern in the capital for almost a decade, but the facts are alarmingly clear that little has been done about it.

Congress received a special message from President Eisenhower calling for urgent legislation to modernize the nation's air traffic control and air navigation. Packed with facts from a one-year study, the message recommended what's needed and why. I promptly introduced a bill (H.R. 6855) to implement the program.

For too long the Los Angeles area particlarly has been forced to endure the problem of overcrowded skies. The recent Pacoima tragedy dramatized the disastrous extent to which this problem has grown. But near misses among aircraft have become too frequent above all major cities.

Some obvious facts must be faced. The problem of solving air navigation and traffic is infinitely more complicated than that of surface traffic. The sky's the limit, literally, for this three-dimensional aerial highway system.

We can't erect traffic signals in the sky, nor could planes stop if we could. The tremendous speeds of supersonic aircraft have relegated the see-and-be-seen flight rules to the buggy whip era. Pilots have no second chance, since virtually all collisions are fatal. There are no "right lanes and left lanes," no "fast lanes and slow lanes," nor any "divided parkways" in the skies.

The over-all system must be an essential part of our national defense against air attack, as well as responding to the growing demands up public need.

UNDER THE PLAN, an Airways Modernization Board would be created for three years. It would have wide powers, including responsibility for developing systems of communications, navigation and other engineering aids, as well as the selection of such aids. It would be authorized to seek advice from military, civil, industrial and other interests in air travel.

The proposed Board would have an impartial chairman appointed by the President. It would have no affiliations with existing government agencies. The Departments of Commerce and Defense would each supply one member to the Board, but decisions would not have to be unanimous. This is a most important point.

It is important because it eliminates what has been one of the chief stumbling blocks to a coordinated program of air traffic control. This stumbling block is the conflict between military and civilian interests in the air, highlighted because decisions of the present Air Navigation Development Board, established in 1948, have to be unanimous. The Departments of Commerce and Defense can exercise a veto over such decisions at present. They would not have such power on the proposed Board.

Although several government and industry committees have worked hard to solve the air problems during the past 10 years, there has been no one agency with specific authority for them to advise. Under my bill this proposed Board would have such authority.

WILD MUSTARD is blooming up on the burns above town. And it is good to see that each year the cruel scars become smaller as chaparral takes over.

The mustard growth holds seeds of scrub until it can get a roothold; the scrub, in turn, holds the seeds of small trees until they can grow.

In time the mountains will be green and grey again but who will ever forget the Christmas forest fire?

ANYBODY else read about the new GE freezer-cooker that calls for no hands, ma? Well, the frozen dinner gets pushed out automatically from the freezer, shifted to the oven and cooked electronically. Each dish enters the oven on its own time schedule.

A half hour later or thereabouts, soft chimes ring and the cooked meal emerges on a tray on the dining room side of the oven. The menu is roast beef, peas, whipped potatoes, hot rolls and hot apple pie.

The article ends with the announcement that "the cooker is not for sale."

EMILY POST herself, so the story goes, once entered the field of arranging a dinner so the hostess needn't bob up and down all evening. The guests seated themselves at a table artfully arranged with main dishes and salad. Food was passed and eaten with a minimum of fuss.

Then came the high point. Mrs. Post, still seated, collected the plates and set them on a sideboard, putting a stack of desert plates before her. She then leaned over and pulled from under her chair an ice cream freezer. With all her native elegance she opened up, scooped out servings, put the lid back on and pushed the freezer back under.

Much more fun than electronics.

ALL RIGHT, all right, it is Steinberg's work that William Rotsler's (currently in the library) resembles. It was a case of choosing between Steichen, Steiglitz and Steinberg and all that can be said for this column's calumny is that at least the first four letters were right.

Steinberg is the artist, Steichen and Steiglitz the photographers, according to Exhibits Chairman Alan Wood. And if he's wrong, call him this time.

Social and Club Activities

Friendship Club Annual 'Pie Party'

The monthly meeting of the Community Friendship Club, slated for May 6 at 1 p.m. in the Park House, will feature the annual "Pie Party."

Members and their guests are reminded to bring fork and spoon and 25 cents for pie served by the tea committee. Coffee will be served.

The afternoon program, honoring Mother's Day, will include music arranged by Stewart Matter, director of music at the Congregational Church; a woman's trio, Kathy Franco, soloist, and Dr. Raymond Pease, pianist-accompanist. William Pollgreen, club member, will recite an original poem in memory of his mother.

Of special interest will be a display of apparel and jewelry, worn by board members which had belonged to their mothers, under the direction of Mrs. Alice Sedgman, founder and president of the club.

The afternoon's arrangements are under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edith Pictor Nelson.

Dieters Beware—Fruit Salad Loaded With Calories

By Toni Maurin SY. 7-9634

When I asked Mrs. Sam Perloff for her favorite recipe her husband volunteered that she would give her special formula for boiling water. She opined that the recipe she'd like to submit might not be the most complicated in the world, but it was the one most often requested by her friends and family.

However, I won't recommend it for those who are watching their diet as it is too hard to restrict yourself to a small serving.

LUNCHEON FRUIT SALAD
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 1 cup sliced orange sections, peeled
- 1 cup pitted and drained queen anne cherries
- 1 cup sliced canned peaches, drained
- ½ cup English walnut meats
- 2 cups miniature marshmallows
- ¼ cup salad dressing (not mayonnaise
- ½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine fruit, nuts and marshmallows. Add salad dressing and fold in whipped cream. Chill three hours and serve in individual serving or in large bowl on lettuce leaves. May be garnished with cherries, and fruit may be varied to suit taste.

MRS. PERLOFF, who was born in Los Angeles, has two boys 14 and 15 years old. She and Mr. Perloff have been residents of our community for 18 years.

She has worked beside her husband to build their present business and, in addition, has maintained a lovely home for her family. She has been active in the past in the Toastmistress Club as well as in the PTA.

I asked her if she was doing anything in club work right now and she said that between keeping up with her two boys, as well as her husband, she has had little time left over in the past year.

First District Flower Show Planned May 3 - 4

Enthusiasm is running high for the District flower show which will be the first ever to be held at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, 301 N. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia. It will be in the new Administration Building, May 3 and 4.

All garden clubs and groups of District 12 are invited to exhibit individual artistic arrangements and outdoor group arrangements expressing a theme. The maximum area per group is 3½ by 10 feet.

The Little Garden Club of Pasadena, Mrs. L. M. Butterworth, president, will be responsible for the arrangements for the tea to be served on the 3d from 2 to 5. Installation of officers of District 12 will take place at this time. The exhibit and tea on the 3d are for members and guests of the district. On the 4th the exhibit is open to the general public.

The well-known artist, Edna Shoof, is in charge of exhibits. This will be a non-competitive show.

Robert Blackburn from the Arcadia Music Mart will furnish background organ music.

Andrews Welcome Grandchild

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Andrews, 692 W. Sierra Madre, welcomed a second granddaughter, Michelle, last Sunday. The new arrival is the first child of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Andrews of Newport Beach.

She is a third generation Californian. She also is in the fourteenth generation descended from John Alden and Priscilla Mullins.

Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Gaudin of Newport Beach. Her grandparents on both sides have been associated with cultural and business interests of their respective communities.

Her mother, nee Jacqueline Gaudin, is an officer of Delta Gamma Juniors of Orange County and a member of Junior League. Her father, a graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara, is engaged in business in Long Beach.

Jameson-Waters Rites March 29

Barbara Farrell Waters exchanged nuptial vows with M. D. Jameson, president of Inglewood Savings and Loan Association, March 29 in a private ceremony. Judge Donald Wright of Pasadena officiated.

Mrs. Jameson is a member of Gamma Phi Beta, and the Assistance League of Los Angeles and is an associate member of the Sierra Guild to the Children's Hospital. Her two grown sons, Roger and Ronald Waters, were in attendance at the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon in Palm Springs, the newly married couple returned to their home at 73 E. Grandview, Arcadia.

Audubon Society Meeting Saturday

Pasadena Audubon Society will meet in the Public Library next Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Theodora Payne, owner of a eucalyptus native plant nursery, will be guest speaker and will illustrate his talk with dried specimens of seeds, pods, polished wood and buds.

The public is invited.

Arcadia League To Install New Officers May 23

Mrs. Lawrence Lydick, president of the Assistance League of Arcadia, has announced that Mrs. Byron Knoblauch, 1950 Vista Ave., is the newly elected president of the group.

Other new officers elected last Tuesday are Mrs. Francis R. Chalmers Jr., first vice president; Mrs. Earl N. Welch, second vice president; Mrs. A. Morris Collins, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert C. Picking, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. George Pruessing, treasurer.

Committee chairmen selected to serve with the officers as members of the League's Board of Directors are Mrs. Laurence C. Dunn, philanthropy; Mrs. Ernest Hachten, ways and means; Mrs. Kenneth P. Waterhouse, projects; Mrs. Richard Hachten, social; Mrs. Robert G. Knopp, activities, and Mrs. Edward Maupin, press.

Mrs. William D. Gibbs will continue as regional council representative to the National Assistance League.

Installation of the new officers is scheduled for the annual meeting May 23 at 12 noon in the Terrace Room of the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel.

Lamplighters Plan Party

Paul and Irene Saurenman will open their home at 2004 San Pasqual St., Pasadena, next Saturday night at 7 o'clock for the Sierra Madre Methodist Lamplighters' Spring party.

Members are encouraged to be in attendance since there will be an election of new officers at this event.

The evening's entertainment will include a "Dutch Auction." Each couple in attendance will bring an item which is no longer needed or used by them but would be useful to someone else.

The Saurenmans will be assisted by the Bauers and Wolfes.

The group's installation dinner date has been changed this year. The new date is May 18 at 7 p.m. in the Green Hotel.

Local Scouts Near End Of Service Project

Sierra Madre Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts are nearing the end of a 10-month project of service to various hospitals in the area.

Starting last September, individual troops, one each month, have made tray favors for Children's Hospital, for Sister Kenny, Veterans', Orthopedic and Casa Colina Hospitals. In addition, four of the troops have taken on such special projects as packing Red Cross and Junior Red Cross kits, contributions to CARE, and making extra Christmas gifts for the patients at Casa Colina.

Mrs. Bernard Tumilty is Girl Scout Council chairman for these projects.

THE MARINER SCOUTS earned well over their $300 goal at their latest annual rummage sale. The proceeds will be used for their annual summer cruise, this year to Santa Barbara Island, giving them the opportunity to put into practice the Mariner skills they have been learning during the year.

They are also preparing for the Mariner Gam in May at Hansen, when they will compete with other Mariner Ships in boating, swimming and land skills. A recent outing to Echo Park enabled them to practice canoeing. Peter Rogers, president of the Pasadena Power Squadron, has been giving them instruction in charting and navigation.

As their part in community projects, several of the Mariners have given 1,021 hours of service as Nurses Aides at Alta Vista Hospital in Pasadena. At the Pasadena Air Force Filter Center, 14 of the Mariners work in six-hour shifts every third weekend, helping to plot the movements of all aircraft from San Diego north to Sacramento and inland as far as Bakersfield and Yuma, Ariz. To date, they have completed 3,328 hours of service in this project.

Mrs. Charles Peterson is skipper of the Mariner Troop. Crew members are:

Deportation Of Citizens Under Fire

"More than 1½ million American born citizens of Mexican descent may suffer loss of citizenship under the provision of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act."

This statement by Ralph Guzman, based on his recently completed study on expatriation of nationals of Mexican descent, introduces the subject of his speech to be given at a public meeting sponsored by the Friends Committee on Legislation tomorrow at 8 p.m. at The Neighborhood House (215 W. California St.) Pasadena.

In his year long study on expatriation, under the auspieces of the Fund for the Republic, Mr. Guzman also became aware that mass deportations by immigration authorities have included many native born Americans.

Mr. Guzman, former executive director of the Civil Rights Department of Alianza-Hispano Americano, one of the Southwest's leading Mexican-American fraternal organizations, will share the platform with Sidney Kaplan, immigration attorney and past chairman of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Association of Immigration Lawyers.

J. Stuart Innerst, chairman of the FCL and pastor of First Friends Church in Pasadena will lead a group discussion. The public is urged to attend. There will be no charge.

L. R. Anthonys Enjoy Week's Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Anthony, 248 San Gabriel Court, and their sons, Steven, Paul and John, and dog, "Queenie," have returned from a week's holiday.

Part of their time was spent in Death Valley, and a tour over the back roads through the Providence Mountains in the Mojave Desert proved interesting.

They also visited Joshua Tree National Monument and enjoyed the territory around the Salton Sea as well as the prehistoric fish traps west of Salton Sea.

VFW Members Plan Mother's Day Party

Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring a Mother's Day breakfast in the VFW Cluhouse May 12.

All mothers will be admitted free but the gentlemen escorting them will pay 75 cents.

Auxiliary Party Today

The Foothill Branch of the Women's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association will meet today in Eaton's Restaurant for its Spring style show and luncheon.

Executive officer, Mrs. George Frempter, has announced she will honor Mrs. Benton L. Corley, first chairman of the Foothill organization, on this, the second anniversary of the group's founding.

Assisting in the endeavor will be Mrs. Robert L. Walters, Mrs. Charles R. Noziska, Mrs. Corley, Mrs. Nicholas Martin and Mrs. Phillip Lightfoot.

Masons Set School Week Dinner

A dinner meeting commemorating Public School Week will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Masonic Temple here.

Frank R. Walkup, former acting superintendent of the Pasadena schools, will be the main speaker. The Masons, which annually sponsor the affair, have invited teachers from the Sierra Madre Schools to attend.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

Police report a case of suspected mischief at Barrett's Home Gardens, 192 N. Mountain Trail. During the past week 15 glass panes of a hothouse were discovered broken.

Juveniles under suspicion are being investigated.

A clever wife has the knack of finding a little crack in every excuse that keeps it from ringing true.

Supper April 26 for Sierra Parters

Coolie hats have been dusted off and chopsticks will click when members of Sierra Partners, a couples' group in Sierra Madre Methodist Church, meet in the home of the Ove Jensens, 3660 Shadow Grove, tomorrow night for a "Shanghai Supper."

The Chinese dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. The Bart Steeds will be co-hosts.

Those planning to attend have been asked to dress in Chinese style and bring a cushion to relieve tired muscles unaccustomed to eating in the fashion of the Far East.

VILLA VIEWS

And so again Easter has come and gone. Mothers are still finding gaily colored grass tucked in among furniture and rugs, jellied eggs that somehow slipped from a tiny clenched hand, or a half eaten chocolate rabbit stored away for another day.

The young ones are all back in their particular halls of ivy, and once more life resumes its normal pace. For those who celebrated in churches and temples life has been given a special meaning, for Easter is truly a holiday that someone is celebrating in each part of the world.

THE ARTURO Gutierrez familiy of 3265 Fairpoint celebrated this year with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ascencio and their family. They had for the highlight of their day an Easter Piñata, which is a Mexican surprise game. The Piñata is hung from a tree or pole and each little favor is filled with Easter goodies. The players are blindfolded and given a stick with which to bring down the prizes. Once this is accomplished there is a mad scramble by all to retrieve a prize for oneself. Needless to say, the game always ends in much laughter and merriment. Their son, Gabriel, was home from Santa Clara State College to be with the family for Easter.

MISS JULIE PYLE of 1432 Old House Road was the honoree of an "Around the Clock" bridal shower brunch given by Mrs. William H. Benson of Santa Ana on the 25th. Each guest brought a gift for each hour of the day and the results were most lovely to receive.

* * *

MRS. JACK PASCHALL JR. of 1324 Sierra Madre Villa, who acted as area chairman for the Red Cross Drive, asked me to thank all of the people who worked to make the drive a success. Division 15, headed by Mrs. Charles Goldsworthy, went over the quota, and Division 13, headed by Mrs. James Stivers, and Division 12, headed by Mrs. Peter Ludwig, came very close to meeting the set quota.

DR. AND MRS. ROBELT L. Mueller of 1600 Old House Road returned last week from the biannual Western Conference of Anesthiology at Sun Valley, Idaho. They stayed over a couple of days after the convention and enjoyed the skiing and swimming in the outside pool. Mrs. Mueller said she was swimming in the 90-degree pool with the snow coming down. This is living!

CHRISSY CHAPMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman of 1595 Old House Road, spent her vacation in bed recovering from a tonsilectomy!

THE WARD CLARKS of 3033 Clarmeya Lane had a brief outing Las Vegas way last weekend.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. SPELTS Parker of 1701 Country Lane had a family Easter dinner. The party included Mrs. John R. Cochran and her children, Cheri and John; Mrs. Horance Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hodonicky, James Hodonicky and Mr. Ernest Jackson.

SALLY McCOMAS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McComas of 1536 Sierra Madre Villa, returned home last weekend from a flying trip to see her sister, Carole, at Brigham Young College in Provo, Utah. She stopped for a couple of days on her return trip in Las Vegas but came home in time for the Easter services at the Wistaria Vine and a family dinner. Sally is one of the princesses at the vine this year.

DR. AND MRS. GILBERT D. McCann and their two children of 2247 Villa Heights Road took their two horses down to Joshua, near the National Monument, and spent the weekend with friends riding over the desert land.

Sears Sets March, '58 Opening

The proposed new store of Sears, Roebuck and Co. at the Corner of Foothill Blvd. and Michillinda is expected to be completed by March 1, 1958, Donald LaMotte, manager of the Pasadena branch, announced yesterday.

The company has filed plans and an application for a building permit with the Pasadena Building Department. The new building will cost approximately $2,143,000.

The company, which is still involved in a court case brought by area residents over a strip of land fronting on Michillinda, has revised its original plans.

The main building will be constructed 60 feet west of the originally proposed site, a move that will place it entirely within a commercially zoned area. The garage also will be west of the store.

Architects for the 200,000-square-foot building are Styles and Robert Clemens, with Hilp and Rhodes of San Francisco named as building contractors.

The two-story building's exterior walls will be of brick, and parking space for 1,252 cars will be provided, according to plans.

Howdy! Everybody's back at the old, old routine at Marshall, but don't feel bad —just think of that glorious vacation ahead of us—only a month and a half away!

* * *

MANY MARSHALLITES had a lot of fun during the Easter vacation, and among them were Charlene Green, Maridith Gage, Betty Jacobson, Ruth Harrison, Judy Lindsell, Lynn Curtis, Cherel Alberts, Dorothy Mayell, Shirley and Carol Ivory. All these kids went by train to San Diego and report they had a wonderful time.

* * *

TALKING about Easter, do you know the definition for a "chloroformed rabbit?" You don't? Why, it's an ether bunny, silly!

* * *

"PEOPLE ARE FUNNY" is the television program Caren Brainard and Heather MacKenzie went to last week. Caren stayed at Heather's house and they had a real ball ice skating and the usual fun.

* * *

ENSENADA! Doesn't that sound good for a vacation spot? Well, Janice Burmeister went there last week. Haven't heard yet whether she had a nice time or not, but I'll bet she did, the lucky stiff.

* * *

LEAVING TOWN seemed to be the thing for quite a few of our friends during the vacation. Marylou Thomas, for example, went to Sacramento and had a great time, while Linda Baugher spent the week in Guerneiville, near San Francisco. Wonderful Balboa, on the other hand, was the fun spot for Joan Foulds and Francis Skaggs.

* * *

A MOST ENJOYABLE dinner party was held Saturday, April 6, at the home of Sharon KnicKrehm, and among those who were invited included Linda Fladung, Carol Cleveland, Dru Shipman, Sandra Brown, Diane Mangham, Carole Alexander, Helen MacDavid, Barbara Bergholz and Marjorie Wagner. For dinner they had Strogenoff (well, anyhow, they had it). The theme of decorations was red and white.

* * *

THE SEA NYMPH (Mariners) went to Cabrillo Beach last week and among the vacationers were Genie Hargraves, Janice Royall, Carol Find, Margo Hayes, Karen Morris, Susan Maloney, Cathy Stuart and Toddy Draeger.

* * *

SONORA, Calif., was selected by Sharon KnicKrehm and her family for a visit during the holidays, reason being that Sharon's grandmother lives there.

TAKE CARE! We hear the measles is going around Sierra Madre.

Our column's advice to all parents in Sierra Madre and the Hastings-Riviera sections: Don't smoke in bed—for the ashes you find on the floor may be your own!

The week's vacation is over, but wasn't it fun! While we are working hard in class (AHEM!) some kids are still thinking about the fun they had.

Their journeys took them east to the Grand Canyon, west to Honolulu, north to San Francisco and south to the border.

* * *

* * *

JAN LOOMIS spent two weeks in Hawaii with her parents. They sailed on the Lurline Monday, the 8th. They stayed at a motel in Waikiki. She had a really great time and is real tan. Easter Sunday they flew home.

* * *

HELEN HOLMES spent most of Easter week in San Francisco with her mother and brother. They were visiting her father who is temporarily working up there. After a few days in San Francisco they went up to St. Helena to visit relatives.

* * *

BILL TAYLOR, who has a beach house at Newport, spent Easter week there. He invited Bob Gasper to join in the fun. Bill's brother, Pat, also invited Brice La Caron.

* * *

DEANNE VANIMAN spent Easter week in Palm Springs. She and her family stayed in a really nice trailer park with a pool. They had a lot of fun in the sun.

* * *

CATHY CLARK spent the week in Las Vegas, Grand Canyon and Phoenix. Cathy and her family stayed Sunday night in Las Vegas. Then a few days at the Grand Canyon. Phoenix was the next stop. It is said she had a ball.

* * *

MARY LOU LLOYD and Sharon Gray spent the week at Bal. Kathy Alfredo and Linda Marrazzi were in Palm Springs getting real tan. Drew Ostman was at Lake Havasu on the Colorado River.

BELIEVE IT or not, the last school dance is a week from tomorrow night. This is the dance that the seventh graders are able to attend. An all-school dance.

The band will be from PHS and the Metronomes (a rhythm and blues group that sang for a Wilson assembly this year) will sing during intermission.

The Government Planning Class is sponsoring it, and they are trying to outdo the decorations of previous dances, which will be a pretty hard job. They are going to make it the best dance yet. They can try, but it will be difficult, because we have had some fine dances.

Sport of Log-Rolling Attracts the Distaff Side

By Charles Ayres

There are lots of instances nowadays where a man's job is a sport such as the professional or collegiate football player. But it is downright unusual for a job to be turned into a sport.

It has been done, though, as evidenced by the sport of birling.

Birling has to do with log-rolling — which in this instance has no reference to the mutual back scratching practiced so diligently by our public office holders, but rather by the lumberjacks.

AFTER SPENDING long hard days chopping big trees down with nothing to look forward to but male companionship and comic books, it's no wonder that the woodsmen scratched about for some diversion.

After felling the trees there arose a necessity to transport them elsewhere so they could be cut into small knotty pieces to provide material for subdividers and tract builders.

Since wood floats and in every forest there is a babbling brook, it was natural that the logs would be tossed into the river with some control arranged downstream to remove them lest they find their way into the Pacific Ocean and louse up the sport fishers.

Sometimes in their haste to rid the forest of trees the lumberjacks tossed more logs into the streams than they could hold, with the result that they jammed up. This required a man to ride the logs to prevent such an unfortunate occurrence. Logs being cylindrical have a tendency to roll, and the water temperature being somewhat less than what is normally considered comfortable for bathing purposes, it behooved the lumberjack to develop a means to remain topside regardless of what the log did.

This required development of much skill and was so much fun that it became a contest between members of the various camps after hours to see which of two contestants could stay on a rolling log longer. Since the ordinary person cannot even stand on a log in the water, the champion logroller had to be a man of almost perfect balance and agility.

IN A NORMAL contest a man need be displaced only once to lose. However, in the finals, when the title is at stake, it's the best two out of three.

Both contestants must keep their place on the log while producing rolls, spins and twists designed to upset his opponent. One would normally expect such a contest to be of short duration but this is not always so. A contest was recorded in 1900 that lasted for 3 hours and 15 minutes.

Birling contests were sidelined at the start of World War II but even before then things happened to bring tears to the lumberjacks'

School Group Plans Board Fitness Test

Ten questions have been proposed by the Citizens Supporting Good Education to measure the fitness of candidates for the Pasadena Board of Education.

The group, which plans to endorse three candidates in the June school election, believes prospective candidates should be able to answer all the questions in the affirmative.

The questions are:

1—Is the candidate a leader in the community?

2—Is he seeking election as a public service rather than for personal profit?

3—Is he able to think independently and objectively about a problem?

4—Is he successful in his own occupation?

5—Is he willing to accede to the decisions of the majority?

6—Can he develop unity among members of the Board?

7—Is he committed to the value of the public school system from kindergarten through junior college, including adult education?

8—Is he able, and will he give the necessary time?

9—Can he distinguish between the policy-making function of the school board and the administrative function of the school staff?

10—Will he serve every member of the community and every child rather than special interests or groups?

Toastmasters Club Plans Open House

Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club is having open house for guests at its next meeting Wednesday evening, May 8. Anyone interested in Toastmasters may attend, President John DuBois, 1255 Medford, announced.

"We find that in Hastings Ranch and Sierra Madre there are many men interested in joining a Toastmasters Club," says Mrs. DuBois. "However, they don't know where to find one, so we're having open house."

Sierra Madre Toastmasters Club takes in residents of Hastings Ranch, Sierra Madre and Arcadia. It has 22 active members, with room for eight more.

"After one visits our club as a guest and sees what goes on," states Mr. DuBois, "he wants to join the organization, for he readily realizes the personal benefits to be gained, as well as the entertainment value."

"Our club offers the individual a proven method of self-improvement," says Mr. DuBois. "It's also good fun and we hope anybody interested will be our guest May 8."

Present membership includes persons from varied fields of work, including engineering, sales, government, manufacturing, insurance, merchandising, advertising, finance, etc.

German Measles Serious In Early Pregnancy

By Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.
L.A. County Health Officer

German measles is a mild infection caused by a virus. Usually there are no serious after-effects of the disease if it is contracted during childhood, but German measles can be very serious in women who contract it during the first three months of pragnancy.

Medical authorities state that the extent of the risk is indefinite, but approximately 10 to 20 per cent of the living infants born of mothers who had German measles during the first four months of pregnancy come into the world with congenital deformities such as cataracts, deafness, heart lesions or some other defect.

IT IS FOR this reason that many physicians feel that no effort should be made to protect female children in good health against exposure to the disease. Since one attack of German measles generally provides lifetime protection, exposure to the sickness before puberty is a fairly safe way of removing this hazard to the unborn generation.

There is no immunization available against German measles. On the other hand, many medical authorities have hitherto believed that prompt treatment with immune serum globulin can sometimes prevent the occurrence of the disease. Recently, there has been a controversy as to whether the serum will even modify the disease, let alone prevent it.

German measles, incidentally, is in no way related to true measles despite the similarity of nomenclature. As a matter of fact, it is called "German" only because its differentiation from scarlet fever and measles was first pointed out by a German scientist. It is also occasionally called "three-day measles" due to the fact that the rash rarely lasts longer than that period of time. In general, it is far more common among adults than true measles, and causes far less discomfort to the patient regardless of his age.

SEASONAL IN occurrence, the number of cases of German measles is usually greatest from late winter to the end of spring. Individual cases of the disease need not be reported to the Health Department, so there are no statistics available as to its incidence. It is, however, obligatory that outbreaks of the disease in schools and institutions be reported, but there have been few reports of this nature.

As with the other diseases most common during childhood, mild as many of them are, the proper first step is to call in a physician. In the case of German measles this is of special importance, not so much for the child's sake as for the possible prevention of disaster in the case of certain adult contacts.

Q. What modern necessity costs you less today than 20 years ago?

Reddy Kilowatt your electric servant

A. Electricity

"EVEN THOUGH the price of practically everything else has skyrocketed," explains Reddy Kilowatt, "a kilowatt hour of electricity in Southern California costs less today than it did 20 years ago." (Bigger bill? That's because you're using more and living better electrically.) Small wonder electricity is your biggest bargain in modern living.

Garden Notes . . .

New Ornamental Shrubs Add Zest in Gardening

Part of the sparkle and zest of gardening stems from the introduction of new plants each year. Nurserymen and hybridizers are continually improving standard species, particularly ornamental shrubs, which are probably planted more often in California than any other type of plant.

Home gardeners reap the benefits of hybridizing for with each new introduction gardening becomes more interesting and oftentimes easier.

Very popular and colorful —and becoming more colorful with each new introduction—is the Raphiolepis or Hawthorn. The standard species of this ornamental shrub is the India Hawthorn (Raphiolepis indica). An established variety of the India is the Pink India Hawthorn (R. i. rosea).

THIS WAS the first Raphiolepis to have pink flowers. Work continued in this shrub family to develop a deeper pink. Success came with the introduction of Coates Crimson (R. i. rubra), four years ago. It grows more compact than the India and with more flowers that open in a deep rose pink or crimson and fade to pink. Coates Crimson grows slowly, is about as wide as tall, and is ideal as a foundation shrub.

Other new Raphiolepis varieties introduced are Enchantress, Springtime and Jack Evans. Enchantress is a hardy, compact shrub with upright habits and large deep rose-red flowers borne in clusters from late winter through spring.

Its foliage is heavy and glossy, luxurious green. It will grow well in full sun or partial shade. Springtime is tall, upright and fast-growing. It has large flower clusters of bright pink, glossy evergreen foliage and it blooms from late winter to spring. Jack Evans foliage has rounder leaves than the other Indica hybrids. Its flowers are soft rose pink.

There are three new faces in the Camellia family this season. They are Masterpiece, Sweet and Low and Mahogany Glow. Masterpiece has large magnolia-like leaves, and five-inch white blooms, Sweet and Low is a trailing plant with many glowing, single pink blooms flowing down the cascading branches. Mahogany Glow has gorgeous dark red, semi-double blooms; and its new foliage is mahogany red.

Manzanitas, too, can boast new introductions. There are eight new varieties of this California native, including low, spreading shrubs of two feet in height a creeping mat and a shrub six feet tall. Manzanitas are evergreen with crooked branches and attractive smooth reddish bark. The foliage of these new varieties varies from dark to light glossy green. Rose, pink or white flowers are borne on all of them and the creeping mat has a heavy fall crop of red berries.

THE WILD LILAC or Ceanothus, another California native, has several new variations, all evergreen with blue flowers. They vary in size from creeping shrubs to small trees, and are very easy to care for, because they are drought resistant once established.

Although the Bougainvillea usually grows as a vine, a new variety of it—Temple Fire or Red Bush Bougainvillea—grows bush-like, compact and uniform. This can also be used as a hedge. The flower bracts are deep red and continually produced during warm weather.

In 1942 the woman champion met the male champion and I'm happy to report that the man won. But with the advent of more time-saving devices for the female allowing for more practice, it's just a matter of time until the men will have to find another game.
